WOODMEN [illegible]

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek, Aug 7.—The head camp Woodmen of the World and grand circle Women of Woodcraft, after being in continuous session since morning adjourned late this afternoon and tonight are attending the ball given in their honor at Armory hall Victor

At the session of the Woodmen today there was quite a little preliminary skirmishing relative to legislation. Probably the most important thing done was the raising of the salary of the head officers. The salary of the head consul, F A Falkenburg was increased from $5,000 to $6,000 per annum, that of head clerk J I Book of California, from $2,500 to $3,000 per annum, and that of head auditor F P Hertzby of Denver, from $2,500 to $3,000 per annum

The election of officers of the Woodmen will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 30 o'clock

The Grand Circle Women of Woodcraft, at their session today passed a resolution providing that all monuments to be erected over the graves of deceased members in the future shall be uniform in cost. By the resolution it is ordered that relatives or friends of the deceased are not allowed to add to the $100 allowed by the Women of Woodcraft for monuments. In the past it has been the custom in many instances to secure the $100 from the order and then add more money securing a finer monument. The reading of reports occupied the greater portion of the day

GOVERNOR'S LABOR DAY PROCLAMATION

Special to the Gazette

Denver, Aug 7.—Governor Orman today issued his annual Labor day proclamation. It is as follows

In accordance with the provisions of the statute of the state of Colorado designating the first Monday in September of each year Labor day and declaring the same to be a holiday in all respects similar to other holidays it becomes my duty as well as my pleasure to call attention to the same and to suggest to all the entire cessation from labor on that day throughout the state

The industrial enterprises of the state of Colorado have not during the year witnessed the slightest interference with their growth or progress from any source. To the men who toil must be given the greatest measure of praise for this prosperous state of affairs

Let us then in recognition of the dignity of labor set aside Monday, September 1, 1902, as a day of absolute rest, observing the day by such forms of recreation as are suited to the conditions of our progressive and prosperous people

Given under my hand and the executive seal this 7th day of August A D 1902

FAILED TO FIND THE COCOS ISLAND TREASURE

By Associated Press

Victoria, B C, Aug [illegible].—The elaborately outfitted expedition which set sail from here early in January on the brigantine Blakley to search for the mythical treasure of Cocos Island returned today like other expeditions which have visited the island without having seen a sight of the treasure of any kind. The expedition was an utter failure. The instruments which were to locate the supposed buried treasure failed in all except giving the members a lot of work digging in different parts of the island. Captains Hackett and Whidden, captain and mate of the brigantine, who have the maps said to have been drawn by a Nova Scotian miner, who is said to have buried some treasure there, are disgusted with the gold finding instrument which Justin Gilbert, former court stenographer of this city, and Enyeart, a prospector, took down on the vessel. The Blakley was 101 days reaching the island from Victoria, getting a taste of the heavy weather which prevailed at that time, arriving at the island on April 17. After a day's reconnoitering the instruments were brought out and the men started working at a point to which it pointed. After sinking a shaft 20 feet another trial was made with the so called gold finder and it pointed in another direction. In fact every time it was brought out it pointed in a different direction. Finally getting disgusted with it Captains Whidden and Hackett decided to test it with some gold coin on the beach. It failed to find the coin and then a search for the treasure was made independent of it. Holes were sunk where the crew of H M S Imperieuse and the schooner Aurora had searched without any better result. Provisions getting bad it was determined to make a start for home and after loading with coral and turtle shells the vessel was turned northward. This was on May 11, only 24 days having been spent on the island

By Associated Press.

Denver, August 7.—Solomon R Guggenheim, who is here looking after the interests of the American Smelting and Refining company, of which he is an official, said today that the company had just closed the sale of 20,000,000 ounces of silver to the Mexican government in addition to 5,000,000 ounces recently delivered. He declared that the first sale increased the market price of the metal two or three cents and predicted a still greater rise as a result of the recent deal.

[illegible] EXPLOSION [illegible] MINE

Disastrous Explosion at Bowen, a Small Camp About Ten Miles [illegible]

Special to the Gazette

Trinidad Aug 7.—A most disastrous explosion occurred this evening at 6 30 o'clock at No 3 mine at Bowen, a small camp about 10 miles north of this place in which 13 lives are known to have been lost. The exact number of men working the night shift and in the mine at the time of the explosion is unknown. The mine is worked by the Union Coal company of Denver and is a slope mine situated on the mountain side and about 400 yards from the tipple below

The explosion occurred about 500 feet from the mouth of the slope and was caused by firedamp. Immediately after the night shift had started in the slope a terrific explosion occurred entirely filling the mouth of the slope and shaking buildings and breaking windows for a mile around. Owing to the mouth of the slope being filled the rescuers were delayed for some time but they finally succeeded in reaching part of the men through an old slope and eight dead bodies were quickly brought to the surface

The mine is filled with gas and smoke and the rescuers are afraid of afterdamp and unable to stay in the mine but for a short time. Mothers, wives and children of the dead and imprisoned miners are almost crazed with grief and the scene presented at the mouth of the mine is a most pathetic one. The known dead are

JAMES HUNTSH, Machine runner.
TILDEN WINDFIELD, colored, helper
MIKE CASSIDY, blown to pieces.
JOSEPH GORDON, colored, driller.
JOE SAUCHIPY, machine runner.
THOMAS SIERRA.
FRANK GROAT
WEILER ELLIOTT

The powder house in the mine, usually containing about 1,000 pounds of powder blew up and it is this which caused such great disaster. The general belief is that the entire mine has been ruined and if not it will take months to get it in working order again. The rescuing party is pushing forward with all possible speed and before many hours the exact number of lives lost and total amount of damage can then be determined.

Kit Carson	4	Yuma	[illegible]
Lake	[illegible]
La Plata	10	Total	[illegible]
Larimer	[illegible]

The above was agreed upon at a meeting of the Republican state central committee held at the Brown hotel today. The meeting was attended by about 40 of the members of the committee, the others being kept away because of the recent washout on the railroads. Both Denver and Cripple Creek were competitors for the convention. After the subcommittee reported in favor of Denver, Judge Graham, Frank P Sheafer, W H Griffith and J G Jones of Cripple Creek, Fred Butler of Denver and I N Stevens of Colorado Springs made speeches in favor of Cripple Creek and many votes were changed by the arguments of these gentlemen

The Cripple Creek delegation made a splendid fight for that city and the final vote was 25 for Denver and 15 for Cripple Creek

The apportionment of delegates was made on a basis of three for every county and one extra for every 125 votes, cast for Frank Gowdy for governor at the last election

The committee was called to order by Chairman Fairley and after a few short talks a committee of five was appointed to apportion the delegates. This committee was composed of the following members: McNeil, of Pueblo, Wood of Los Animas, McCreary of Weld, Wright of Boulder, Taylor of Douglas, and Secretary of the State Central Committee Divian. The committee recommended the above apportionment. It also recommended that the session be held September 9, but owing to an Odd Fellows' meeting in the city on that day September 4 was substituted. There was a proviso in the motion for September 4 that if no suitable hall can be secured on that day the convention shall be held as soon thereafter as possible. The state central committee will meet 24 hours previous to the convention for the purpose of considering contests, etc

In speaking of the meeting tonight Chairman Fairley said that it was harmonious in every particular and from all that he could learn through a discussion of affairs with his committeeman the prospects were bright for a complete Republican victory this fall.

The Democratic convention will be held on the 3d of September. The two coming at practically the same time will give Denver about all the conventions she can care for at one time. It is thought they will bring at least 3000 visitors to the city.

CATHOLIC RESOLUTIONS ON [illegible] PHILIPPINE [illegible]

By Associated Press

Chicago, August 7.—The temper of the convention of the Federated Catholic societies relative to the Philippine question was put to the test at the closing session today. John T. Keeting, a national officer of the Hibernians offered a substitute resolution for those previously brought before the meeting. Mr Keating proposed that the delegates dismiss the friars and the Philippine school questions with a mere expression of satisfaction with the manner in which the subject is being handled by the vatican and the administration. When a motion on the substitute was put there was but one affirmative vote, and that one was Keating's. The convention then adopted the following resolutions

"We hereby express confidence that Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, will perform his duty under the Constitution and laws, and our belief that he will institute a rigid inquiry into any abuses by subordinate government officials in our territorial possessions and promptly rectify such abuses. We are especially confident that in his dealings with the serious problems arising in the Philippine islands, property and personal rights guaranteed by treaty, laws and Constitution will be faithfully safeguarded and protected.

"Resolved, That we extend to the friars in the Philippines our fullest sympathy in this, their hour of trial, that we appreciate the value of their services in the cause of religion and humanity; that we pledge them our support as American citizens in upholding the hands of our government in its determination to see that they are treated with that common justice that belongs to all who enjoy the protection of the American flag.

"Resolved, That this federation congratulate the vatican and the American government on the position attained in the negotiations in the questions which have arisen in the Philippines and we express our full confidence that these negotiations will be continued until a just and amicable solution shall be obtained."

Other resolutions regretted present circumstances surrounding the Indian schools and pledged active and moral support in remedying the conditions. The establishment of Catholic high schools wherever practicable was advocated, sympathy was expressed for the Catholics of France in their present troubles, and suitable recognition was taken of the deaths of Archbishops Feehan and Corrigan.

Atlantic City was chosen as the meeting place of the convention in the third week of July, 1903.

The election of officers resulted in few changes. Among the officers are: T. B. Monahan, Columbus, Ohio, president. Louis W. Kauffman, New York, first vice-president; F. B. Kierce, San Francisco, second vice-president; Anthony F. Mattre, Cincinnati, secretary, H. J. Fries, Erie, Pa., treasurer.

BUTCHERS' CONVENTION.

By Associated Press

Washington, Aug. 7.—The convention of the Retail Butchers and Meat Dealers Protective association adjourned today to meet in this city on the first Monday in October next year.

The convention adopted a resolution instructing the various local bodies to take measures to prevent the election of members of congress who will favor the elimination of tariff on cattle and live stock.

A resolution denouncing the so-called Beef trust in general terms was rejected by the committee on policy to which it was referred. This action was taken because it was felt the resolution would accomplish nothing and because the subject was covered in the [illegible] which was adopted to support representatives who favor abolishing the beef tax.

[illegible] The great strides that banking has made have taught the bankers to stand together in times of depression and by a united front not only protect their own interests but those of every individual in the community. The increase in all lines of business in this country has been so great in the past few years as to astonish the world. Our exports have changed the balance of trade in our favor by hundreds of millions of dollars, and the banking business has fully kept pace with this wonderful development

When we consider that only about six years ago there were only two or three national banks in the United States having deposits exceeding $30,000,000 each, that today there are individual banks, even in the smaller cities having a larger deposit account than any of the banks in the United States six or seven years ago and that there are national banks today that have nearly $100,000,000 each on deposit we realize the wonderful strides our country has made. This great increase in our business has brought with it greater responsibilities resulting in closer unity of interest among the bankers than has ever before been known in this country. We hope that this unity will bring about a greater uniformity of laws in different states and will go far toward

A Local Artist and His Work Honored

The work of Mr. A. Van Briggle has again been honored. In the last issue of Der Moderne Stil, [illegible] Professor Van Jul Hoffman of Stuttgart, there is a description of the beautiful work produced by the Van Briggle Pottery company of Colorado Springs. Five illustrations accompany the text. Professor Hoffman is one of the best known ceramic critics of Europe and his recognition of Mr. Van Briggle's wonderful designs is the highest praise.

A Berlin art publication has written Mr. Van Briggle for permission to reproduce some of his work with an article on the discovery of his remarkable dead glaze.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Bellamy Storer, the founder of Rookwood and a stockholder in the Van Briggle company, stated that she considered the vases now being produced by Mr. Van Briggle as too valuable and rare for general sale, that in her judgment they should be placed in museums or the hands of collectors. She is mounting several for exhibition in the Paris Salon of 1903.

Extensive improvements have been made in the present works [illegible] Nevada avenue. New kilns, work rooms and offices have been added. The works are now one of the [illegible] sights of the Springs. They are open to the public. Hundreds of visitors have availed themselves of the opportunity of reviewing them the last few weeks.

Among the stockholders are Mr. A. Van Briggle, Prof. Wm. Strieby, Mr. A. Sutton, General Wm. J. Palmer, Mrs. Maria Longworth Storer, Mr. W. S. Stratton, Mr. C. P. Dodge, Mr. [illegible] Fisher, Mr. [illegible] Mr. [illegible] M. Noble and Mr. Henry Russell Wray.

Journeying Elks To Have a Welcome Here

Colorado Springs Lodge No. 309, B. P. O. Elks, has made extensive preparation for the entertaining of the other lodges of the order which will stop off here en route to the grand lodge session at Salt Lake City and each delegation will be accorded a hearty welcome.

Beginning this morning the club rooms will be thrown open to the visitors and all will be extended the open hand of hospitality. Good cheer and good fellowship will prevail and every effort will be put forth to make their stay in this city an enjoyable one. Refreshments will be served and also an appetizing lunch. Sim Nye has full charge of the affair and has made ample preparations to care for the visiting members of the order. A spacious tent has been erected in Antlers park where can be found literature pertaining to the scenic features and points of interest of Colorado Springs and vicinity. A bureau of information has also been established there with William Myer in charge and all questions regarding the arrival and departure of trains, etc., will be gladly and cheerfully answered.

It had been expected that today the Queen Sabe club would be the guests of the local lodge but the washout on the railways due to the storm last Tuesday has caused a delay in their arrival so that they will not reach this point until some time Saturday. The Louisville, Ky., and other southern lodges will arrive here on Sunday as will also the Pennsylvania and New York delegations. They will all be met at the depot by the committee on reception and escorted to the club rooms where all their wants will be supplied. It is expected that a large number of Elks will stop off here on the way to Salt Lake, but on their return from that point representatives from nearly every lodge in the United States, including the Grand Exalted Ruler and the other grand lodge officers, will pay a visit to the Springs, after which they will visit the Cripple Creek district.

This morning at 11 o'clock the Jubilee Singers will give a concert from the portico of the Elks club rooms on Tejon street. The organization is a colored male quartet and their repertoire includes all of the latest popular songs.

Mrs. Ehrenfeld Is Adjudged Insane

In the county court yesterday Mrs. Laura L. Ehrenfeld was adjudged insane and sent to Dr. Work's private sanitarium at Pueblo where she has friends. Mrs. Ehrenfeld was a teacher in the state university of Kansas for a number of years and is a very highly cultivated lady. The cause of her derangement is attributed to the mysterious death of her son, William B. Ehrenfeld, near Durango last fall. He was missed in September and his mother went to Durango and searched for his body for nearly a month but all her efforts were in vain. His body was found some 50 miles from Durango by some Mexicans in January and later brought to this city for burial. His disappearance proved too much for Mrs. Ehrenfeld and she sought assistance from a number of clairvoyants of this city to find her son. In the beginning she had small faith in them but with the shock and the finding nothing more than his skeleton, she sought relief in spiritualism. In her testimony while on the stand yesterday she referred often to the superior spirit that was guiding her.

In the probate court yesterday the bond of the administratrix, Elizabeth C. Guire, was approved in the estate of David C. Guire, deceased, late of Monument. Ollie D. Ellis commenced divorce proceedings against Frank A. Ellis alleging extreme and repeated cruelty. They were married in this city in 1895 and have one child.

An appeal from Justice Ruby's court was taken to the county court in the case of W. H. and F. F. Robb vs. R. B. Massey.

Carrie Heyser obtained a divorce from A. Heyser upon the ground of extreme cruelty.

In the case of Louise Idaline Jackson vs. Davy C. Jackson the same grounds were alleged and proven and divorce granted.

Desertion was proved in the case of Ino. T. Evans vs. Mary O'Neil Evans and the bonds of matrimony were dissolved. They were married in Kentucky in August, 1891, and desertion was proved to have taken place in June, 1892.

Knights of Khorassan Given a Reception

Yesterday morning several hundred members of the Knights of Khorassan arrived in Colorado Springs via the Rock Island, accompanied by Imperial Prince Frank H. Clark and Past Imperial Prince Caro.

Last evening the visitors and their wives were tendered a reception by Myrtle and Syracuse lodges, K. of P., this city, in their hall in the De Graff building. The lodge room was beautifully decorated for the occasion and every effort was put forth to make the evening one of unalloyed pleasure. A very enjoyable musical program was rendered by Casser's orchestra, refreshments were served and the balance of the evening was devoted to dancing.

Members of the order were arriving in the city all of yesterday. The Michigan delegation came in over the Rock Island in 11 coaches and other delegations stopping off here were Oklahoma, Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana. Most of the visitors put in the day sight seeing and many of the Knights of Khorassan, including Imperial Prince Clark and Imperial Trustee Fraser, made a trip to the summit of Pike's Peak.

THE CONGESTION IS BEING RELIEVED

Railway Traffic Will Be Resumed Today.

SOME TRAINS ARE MOVED

Damage by Washouts of Tuesday is Being Repaired—Midland Still Using Short Line.

The congested condition of railway traffic at this point is gradually being overcome although the situation is yet very unsatisfactory. Every effort is being put forth to relieve matters however, and it now looks as though the end of the difficulty is in sight.

Yesterday the tracks at the Rio Grande station were crowded with [illegible] but the company succeeded in getting traffic moving last night. The washouts along their line, it was stated yesterday, had all been repaired and by today they hope to be in a position to accommodate the traveling public in a measure at least. No. 3 for the west went out last night at about 11 o'clock freighted down with passengers.

The Colorado Midland is still tied up so far as their own road is concerned but is still transporting passengers west via the Short Line to Cameron, thence westward over the tracks of the Midland Terminal and their own line. For a short time yesterday the Short Line was closed to them but later in the day track privileges were again restored.

They are working day and night in the effort to get their own road open and hope to be successful not later than tomorrow morning. The Colorado Southern is tied up in the vicinity of Trinidad but state that they will have trains moving today. The Santa Fe is having trouble east of La Junta but this route from this point west is operative.

Rock Island trains are running nearly on time and the line is doing a rushing business. No. [illegible] arrived here at 7:35 yesterday morning in three sections all crowded and No. 9 arrived at 10:35 also heavily loaded. Today the $16 round trip rate to Salt Lake City becomes operative and unless the reports of the relieving of the situation prove true, the Elks like the Knights of Pythias will be laid out at different points en route. Every circumstance is taken advantage of to keep trains moving however, and it is believed that from today on the situation will be greatly relieved.

RELICS OF THE 17TH CENTURY

Valuable and unique relics of the seventeenth century, beautifully designed and burnished and also marvelously executed, a masterpiece of the seventeenth century art. It is one of the finest pieces of Dresden statuary in the United States and the only known piece of this design.

Great credit must be attached to the directorship of his royal highness Frederick Augustus III who undertook the immediate directorship of these royal pieces.

This piece was formerly owned by a New York Millionaire.

This royal piece is on exhibition at Messrs. Perkins Crockery Co., 120 N. Tejon street.

Its value we believe is $20,000.

Mr. Perkins has also on exhibition four very rare plaques of the original Wedgewood, which was manufactured about the year 1780.

They are beautifully hand-painted by the best artists of his day.

One striking feature of the above pieces is the good state of preservation.

Mr. Perkins has these unique rarities for sale. The owner sacrificing them for private reasons, we understand, for one fourth their value.

See the Spider Stanhope to be given the most popular lady visitor, displayed in window of E. W. Davis Carriage company, 114 N. Tejon street.

"The Hound of the Baskervilles"

Another Adventure of Sherlock Holmes.

By A. Conan Doyle
Author of
"The Green Flag," and
"The Great Boer War."

MY DEAR ROBINSON:
It was your first account of a west country legend which first suggested the idea of this tale to my mind. For this, and for the help which you gave me in its evolution, all thanks.
Yours most truly,
A. CONAN DOYLE

"Caught cold Watson?" said he.

"No, it's this poisonous atmosphere."

"I suppose it is pretty thick, now that you mention it."

"Thick! It is intolerable."

"Open the window, then! You have been at your club all day, I perceive."

"My dear Holmes!"

"Am I right?"

"Certainly, but how—?"

He laughed at my bewildered expression.

"There is a delightful freshness about you, Watson, which makes it a pleasure to exercise any small powers which I possess at your expense. A gentleman goes forth on a showery and miry day. He returns immaculate in the evening with the gloss still on his hat and his boots. He has been a fixture therefore all day. He is not a man with intimate friends. Where, then, could he have been? Is it not obvious?"

"Well, it is rather obvious."

"The world is full of obvious things which nobody by any chance ever observes. Where do you think that I have been?"

"A fixture also."

"On the contrary, I have been to Devonshire."

"In spirit?"

"Exactly. My body has remained in this armchair and has, I regret to observe, consumed in my absence two large pots of coffee and an incredible amount of tobacco. After you left I sent down to Stanford's for the ordnance map of this portion of the moor, and my spirit has hovered over it all day. I flatter myself that I could find my way about."

"A large scale map, I presume?"

"Very large." He unrolled one section and held it over his knee. "Here you have the particular district which concerns us. That is Baskerville Hall in the middle."

"With a wood round it?"

"Exactly. I fancy the Yew alley, though not marked under that name, must stretch along this line, with the moor, as you perceive, upon the right of it. This small clump of buildings here is the hamlet of Grimpen, where our friend Dr. Mortimer has his headquarters. Within a radius of five miles there are, as you see, only a very few scattered dwellings. Here is Lafter Hall, which was mentioned in the narrative. There is a house indicated here which may be the residence of the naturalist—Stapleton, if I remember right, was his name. Here are two moorland farm houses, High Tor and Foulmire. Then 14 miles away the great convict prison of Princetown. Between and around these scattered points extends the desolate lifeless moor. This then is the stage upon which tragedy has been played, and upon which we may help to play it again."

"It must be a wild place."

"Yes, the setting is a worthy one. If the devil did desire to have a hand in the affairs of men—"

"Then you are yourself inclining to the supernatural explanation."

"The devil's agents may be of flesh and blood, may they not? There are two questions waiting for us at the outset. The one is whether any crime has been committed at all; the second is, what is the crime and how was it committed? Of course, if Dr. Mortimer's surmise should be correct, and we are dealing with forces outside the ordinary laws of nature, there is an end to our investigation. But we are bound to exhaust all other hypotheses before falling back upon this one. I think we'll shut that window again, if you don't mind. It is a singular thing, but I find that a concentrated atmosphere helps a concentration of thought. I have not pushed it to the length of getting into a box to think, but that is the logical outcome of my convictions. Have you turned the case over in your mind?"

"Yes, I have thought a good deal of it in the course of the day."

"What do you make of it?"

"It is very bewildering."

"It has certainly a character of its own. There are points of distinction about it. That change in the footprints for example. What do you make of that?"

"Mortimer said that the man had walked on tiptoe down the alley."

"He only repeated what some fool had said at the inquest. Why should a man walk on tiptoe down the alley?"

"What then?"

"He was running, Watson—running desperately, running for his life, running until he burst his heart and fell dead upon his face."

"Running from what?"

"There lies our problem. There are indications that the man was crazed with fear before ever he began to run."

"How can you say that?"

"I am presuming that the cause of his fears came to him across the moor. If that were so, and it seems most probable, only a man who had lost his wits would have run from the house instead of towards it. If the gipsy's evidence may be taken as true, he ran with cries for help in the direction where help was least likely to be. Then, again, whom was he waiting for that night, and why was he waiting for him in the Yew alley rather than in his own house?"

"You think that he was waiting for someone?"

"The man was elderly and infirm. We can understand his taking an evening stroll, but the ground was damp and the night inclement. Is it natural that he should stand for five or ten minutes, as Dr. Mortimer, with more practical sense than I should have given him credit for, deduced from the cigar ash?"

"But he went out every evening."

"I think it unlikely that he waited at the moor-gate every evening. On the contrary, the evidence is that he avoided the moor. That night he waited there. It was the night before he made his departure for London. The thing takes shape, Watson. It becomes coherent. Might I ask you to hand me my violin, and we will postpone all further thought upon this business until we have had the advantage of meeting Dr. Mortimer and Sir Henry Baskerville in the morning."

CHAPTER IV.

Sir Henry Baskerville.

Our breakfast table was cleared early, and Holmes waited in his dressing gown for the promised interview. Our clients were punctual to their appointment, for the clock had just struck 10 when Dr. Mortimer was shown up, followed by the young baronet. The latter was a small, alert, dark-eyed man about 30 years of age, very sturdily built, with thick black eyebrows and a strong, pugnacious face. He wore a ruddy-tinted tweed suit, and had the weather-beaten appearance of one who has spent most of his time in the open air, and yet there was something in his steady eye and the quiet assurance of his bearing which indicated the gentleman.

"This is Sir Henry Baskerville," said Dr. Mortimer.

"Why, yes," said he, "and the strange thing is, Mr. Sherlock Holmes, that if my friend here had not proposed coming round to you this morning I should have come on my own account. I understand that you think out little puzzles, and I've had one this morning which wants more thinking out than I am able to give to it."

"Pray take a seat, Sir Henry. Do I understand you to say that you have yourself had some remarkable experience since you arrived in London?"

"Nothing of much importance, Mr. Holmes. Only a joke, as like as not. It was this letter—if you can call it a letter—which reached me this morning."

He laid an envelope upon the table, and we all bent over it. It was of common quality, greyish in color. The address, "Sir Henry Baskerville, Northumberland Hotel," was printed in rough characters; the post-mark "Charing Cross," and the date of posting the preceding evening.

"Who knew that you were going to the Northumberland hotel?" asked Holmes, glancing keenly across at our visitor.

"No one could have known. We only decided after I met Dr. Mortimer."

"But Dr. Mortimer was no doubt already stopping there?"

"No, I had been staying with a friend," said the doctor. "There was no possible indication that we intended to go to this hotel."

"Hum! Someone seems to be very deeply interested in your movements." Out of the envelope he took a half-sheet of foolscap paper folded into four. This he opened and spread flat upon the table. Across the middle of it a single sentence had been formed by the expedient of pasting printed words upon it. It ran: "As you value your life or your reason keep away from the moor." The word "moor" only was printed in ink.

"Now," said Sir Henry Baskerville, "perhaps you will tell me, Mr. Holmes, what in thunder is the meaning of that, and who it is that takes so much interest in my affairs?"

"What do you make of it, Dr. Mortimer? You must allow there is nothing supernatural about this, at any rate?"

"No, sir, but it might very well come from someone who was convinced that the business is supernatural."

"What business?" asked Sir Henry, sharply. "It seems to me that all you gentlemen know a great deal more than I do about my own affairs."

"You shall share our knowledge before you leave this room, Sir Henry, I promise you that," said Sherlock Holmes. "We will confine ourselves for the present with your permission to this very interesting document, which must have been put together and posted yesterday evening. Have you yesterday's Times, Watson?"

"It is here in the corner."

"Might I trouble you for it—the inside page, please, with the leading articles?" He glanced swiftly over it, running his eyes up and down the columns. "Capital article this on Free Trade. Permit me to give you an extract from it. 'You may be cajoled into imagining that your own special trade or your own industry will be encouraged by the protective tariff, but it stands to reason that such legislation must in the long run keep away wealth from the country, diminish the value of our imports, and lower the general conditions of life in this island.' What do you think of that, Watson?" cried Holmes, in high glee, rubbing his hands together with satisfaction. "Don't you think that is an admirable sentiment?"

Dr. Mortimer looked at Holmes with an air of professional interest, and Sir Henry Baskerville turned a pair of puzzled dark eyes upon me.

"I don't know much about the tariff and things of that kind," said he; "but it seems to me we've got a bit off the trail so far as that note is concerned."

"On the contrary, I think we are particularly hot upon the trail, Sir Henry. Watson here knows more about my methods than you do, but I fear that even he has not quite grasped the significance of this sentence."

"No, I confess that I see no connection."

"And yet, my dear Watson, there is so very close a connection that the one is extracted out of the other. 'You,' 'your,' 'your,' 'life,' 'reason,' 'value,' 'keep away,' 'from the.' Don't you see now whence these words have been taken?"

"By thunder, you're right! Well, if that isn't smart!" cried Sir Henry.

"If any possible doubt remained it is settled by the fact that 'keep away' and 'from the' are cut out in one piece."

"Well now—so it is!"

"Really, Mr. Holmes, this exceeds anything which I could have imagined," said Dr. Mortimer, gazing at my friend in amazement. "I could understand anyone saying that the words were from a newspaper; but that you should name which, and add that it came from the leading article, is really one of the most remarkable things which I have ever known. How did you do it?"

KING'S PROCLAMATION OF GRATITUDE TO PEOPLE

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 7.—The following message from King Edward to his people was made public tonight:

"To my People—On the eve of my coronation, an event which I look upon as one of the most solemn and important of my life, I am anxious to express to my people at home and in the colonies and in India, my heartfelt appreciation of the deep sympathy they have manifested toward me during a time in my life of such imminent danger. The postponement of the coronation ceremony, owing to my illness, has caused, I fear, much inconvenience and trouble to all who intended to celebrate it. But their disappointment has been borne by them with admirable patience and temper.

"The prayers of my people for my recovery were heard and I now offer up my deepest gratitude to Divine Providence for having preserved my life and given me strength to fulfill the important duties which develop upon me as sovereign of this great empire.

"Edward R. and I.

"Buckingham Palace, August 8."

King Edward's proclamation is a personal and spontaneous expression of his majesty's feelings. It was conceived and written by himself in an autograph letter to the home secretary, C. T. Ritchie. In addressing this communication to the home secretary the king is following the traditions observed by the late Queen Victoria, when she addressed personal messages to the nation.

King Edward did not drive out today. A large crowd had gathered outside Buckingham palace in expectation of their majesties taking a drive, and the king, who was lunching in one of the front rooms of the building, came to a window in full view of the people who cheered him enthusiastically. The king bowed his acknowledgments.

It had been expected that his majesty would visit Westminster abbey today but he did not do so. He was busily engaged with his secretary, Lord Knollys.

Some regalia for the coronation was removed today from Buckingham and St. James palaces to Westminster abbey, where minor rehearsals of the coronation ceremony were held.

The Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught paid visits of inspection to the abbey.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR DEATH OF JOSEPH BEDDALL

By Associated Press.

Shenandoah, Aug. 7.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death of Joseph Beddall, who received his fatal injuries in the riot here last week, concluded its inquiry today and ordered a verdict holding Joseph Paluwiesz, a butcher; Matthew Paulaskas, a one-armed saloonkeeper, and many "other rioters unknown to the jury" responsible for the killing. The men named in the verdict are now locked up and other arrests will follow. The two men were taken into custody this afternoon by two constables who were protected by a platoon of soldiers from the Twelfth regiment.

A large number of witnesses were examined, including the three workmen and Deputy Sheriff Thomas Beddall, who were attacked by the mob, the six policemen who were subsequently set upon and some of them shot, and several eyewitnesses of the riot. Some of the testimony was considered very important by the coroner's jury. Paluwiesz was identified by three boys, who testified they saw him in the crowd with a club, and Paulaskas is alleged to have injured Joseph Beddall. The policemen testified that as they ran up the street, pursued by the mob firing pistols, men standing at nearly every saloon door shot at them as they passed. At one doorway three men stood blazing away at them and from an upper window of a building three other men were shooting down on them. The drinking places referred to are all owned by foreigners.

Policeman Ringheiser testified that when he learned of the disturbance he immediately started to summon his fellow officers. While doing so he met Pierce Walker, a mineworker. He asked Walker to call the miners' committee and have it use its influence to disperse the crowd, but, Ringheiser said,

"He only gave me the laugh."

The situation in this section remains unchanged and staff officers at brigade headquarters do not apprehend any trouble in the near future. The troops had a quiet day. Two companies are still on guard duty in the foreign quarter.

STREET RAILWAY IN NEW HAVEN TIED UP

By Associated Press.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 7.—A better feeling is apparent in the big trolley strike situation tonight and the members of the state board of mediation and arbitration were so satisfied with the outlook that they returned to their homes after a conference with the mayor. It is understood that if an amicable settlement by arbitration cannot be reached tomorrow the board shall be notified. If either of the parties, the strikers or the company, refuse to arbitrate, the board will proceed with an investigation, as it has power to do under the law, compel a hearing and make a report to the governor.

The businessmen's committees at their meeting late this afternoon succeeded in clarifying the situation greatly. It was agreed to recommend to the company and the strikers that a committee of three men, who are large employers of labor in the city, shall sit as a board of arbitration and hear the company's evidence as to why the 27 men were discharged before and after the formation of the union. The company asserts that it was because of incompetency. If the committee of three is agreed upon, it will be left to them to decide how many of the discharged men shall be reinstated. As to the other demand made by the men that their union be recognized there is now no doubt that the company will agree to it. It could not be learned at the company's offices what reply will be [illegible] to the businessmen. If the businessmen are not told tomorrow that arbitration will be resorted to they will decline to further attempt settlement. It is then that the state board of mediation and arbitration is to be called in.

So far as could be ascertained no "strike breakers" have come into the city today, and no attempt has been made to run passenger trains. Travel is by stage and carriages.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The Construction News tomorrow will say:

Building operations for the month of July in 23 of the leading cities of the United States as compiled by the Construction News show the greatest percentage of gain for any month this year being an increase of 49 per cent., as compared with the corresponding month a year ago. During the months permits were taken out in 23 cities for 6,507 building improvements, involving a cost of $29,667,253, against 5,230 buildings costing $19,897,180 for the same month a year ago, an increase of 1,277 in the number of buildings and $9,778,068 in cost. The most notable gain is made by Seattle, with 266 per cent., Buffalo, N. Y., coming next with 231 per cent., Los Angeles 168 per cent., New York city 138 per cent. and Detroit 71 per cent.

WOMAN'S CORPSE FOUND.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Lying in the grass of a vacant lot and but a few feet from the cable track of the State street line on which thousands of people passed the place every day, the dead body of a woman was found tonight.

The corpse was entirely destitute of clothing and none of the garments were found in the vicinity. The body was in such a condition that it was impossible to tell whether or not there were any marks upon it which would indicate violence. The police are firmly of the belief that the woman was murdered and her body placed where it was found tonight.

COMMONS DISPOSED OF IMPORTANT MATTER

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 7.—The house of commons today by a majority of 122 adopted clause 7 of the government's education bill, which gives the predominance in the management of voluntary schools to churchmen.

This clause had been hotly opposed by the opposition and its adoption will enable parliament to rise this week.

Sir William Hood Walrond has resigned his position as chief conservative whip to enter the ministry as chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, in succession to Lord James Hereford.

COURTS MARTIAL IN PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

By Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 7.—A recent mail from the Philippines contains an interesting summary of the results of court martial cases in the Philippines. It shows that the accused in 227 cases were dishonorably discharged, in 231 cases forfeited pay and allowances, in 115 cases suffered other punishment, in 110 cases were fined and in 320 cases were sentenced to confinement. The charges included murder, manslaughter, assaults and attempted rape. Most of the charges, however, were for trivial offences and were based upon complaints made by native Filipinos.

TENNESSEE ELECTION

By Associated Press.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 7.—Returns received by the American from over the state show the election by large majorities of the Democratic candidates for supreme judge and judge of the court of chancery appeals. The former are W. K. McAllister, M. McNeil, John K. Shields and W. D. Beard and the latter are R. M. Barton, John W. Taylor and S. H. Wilson. Democratic congressional nominations, according to information received by the state committee are:

Fourth district, Morgan C. Fitzpatrick over C. E. Snodgrass, sixth district, John Wesley Gaines, over M. H. Meek, seventh district, L. P. Padgett, over W. J. Whithorne; eighth district, T. W. Sims over John H. Trice and J. M. Trout, ninth district, Rice Pearce over Dorsey O. Thomas.

With the exception of Fitzpatrick all are renominations.

VERDICT OF DEATH OF HARRY TRACY

By Associated Press.

Davenport, Wash., Aug. 7.—Tracy's body is on its way to Salem, Oregon. It was taken to Moscow station on the Great Northern, 10 miles from here this afternoon to be conveyed over that road to Seattle. The inquest was completed this afternoon and the jury delivered the following verdict:

"We, the undersigned, sworn by R. P. Moore, coroner of Lincoln county, as a coroner's jury to inquire into the death of a body of a person before us, after inspecting the body and hearing the testimony of witnesses, find as follows:

"That the body is that of Harry Tracy, the escaped convict from the Oregon penitentiary, that the said Harry Tracy came to his death at the ranch of Lou Eddy in Lincoln county, Wash., on August 5, 1902, by means of a gunshot wound from a pistol in his possession and held in his own hands, after first having been wounded in the right leg by party or parties to this jury unknown. That Harry Tracy was an escaped convict from the Oregon penitentiary and at the time of his death was fleeing from officers and posse in pursuit and that no one is blamed for the death but that all efforts to effect his capture were praiseworthy and in full accordance with the laws of Washington."

CHINAMAN TO ADDRESS LABOR UNION MEETING

By Associated Press.

Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Fred E. Kennedy, chairman of the local Labor day committee has received the following letter:

"Washington, Chinese Legation, Aug. 7.

"Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 2d inst., inviting me to address the union men at Binghamton on Labor day. I appreciate highly the friendly spirit that prompted this kind invitation and I will endeavor to see my way clear to accept it.

"It is especially gratifying to me to find that there are union men who hold such enlightened views of exclusive legislation and I assure you it will be a pleasure to me to address such broad-minded men. Very truly yours,

"Wu Ting-Fang."

This is the first invitation which has ever been extended to a Chinaman by a labor union on a similar occasion.

TRANSATLANTIC RECORD.

By Associated Press.

Hamburg, Aug. 7.—According to the experts of the Hamburg-American and North German-Lloyd Steamship lines, the Deutschland, of the Hamburg-American line, still holds the record for the fastest transatlantic trip. The experts of both companies signed a memorandum to this effect today stat- Richter, of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm, from which it appeared that the latter had beaten the Deutschland's time was erroneous.

It was reported on June 9, on the arrival of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm at Plymouth, that that vessel had arrived at that port after a passage of five days, 11 hours and 32 minutes, to Eddystone light, at an average speed of 23.53 knots per hour, beating the Deutschland's record of 23.51 knots per hour, average speed.

FREIGHT RATE WAR

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The western freight rate situation developed into a state of open war today when the Santa Fe gave notice that beginning next Monday that company would carry live stock between Chicago and Kansas City for 12 cents per hundred pounds.

This is a cut of 11½ cents, and the lowest rate given on live stock since 1895, when there was a situation similar to the one now existing and when the live stock rate between the river and Chicago went to 10 cents. Officials of the Santa Fe took no action regarding packing house products and dressed meats. The full purpose of the Santa Fe is not disclosed. The Santa Fe live stock rate will affect the tariff from points far west of Kansas City to Chicago, as the rates from all interior points will be no more than the through rate to Chicago.

Other lines from Kansas City to get live stock business to Chicago will have to meet the Santa Fe cut and, under the rulings of the interstate commerce commission, these competing lines will be compelled to make the same rate from other points along the river, or in Missouri river territory, that they make from Kansas City.

WHISTLER AND THE EDITOR.

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 8.—When the Morning Post, last Wednesday, issued a witty and characteristic letter from James McNeil Whistler, the artist, concerning a premature notice of his death in that paper, it also published a complimentary editorial article on Mr. Whistler's communication. In response to this editorial Mr. Whistler has telegraphed from the continent to the editor of the Morning Post as follows:

"Perfect, a bijou, a little masterpiece and quite delightful to me. The gracious thing said is glistening in the daintiness of the saying of it. Never has amende become by its courtliness more like a knightly favor."

TROOPS FROM ALASKA.

By Associated Press.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 7.—Companies A, B, E and L, Seventh United States infantry, arrived from Alaska early this morning, 300 strong and left by a special train at 10 o'clock for San Francisco, en route to the Philippines. Major C. A. Booth is in command and the other officers are Captain Howell, Captain Mc-Broom, and Lieutenant Erickson, Lieutenant Tillman, Lieutenant Massey and Dr. Hewitt.

PLATFORM AND TICKET OF WYOMING DEMOCRATS

By Associated Press.

Rawlins, Wyo., Aug. 7.—The Democratic state convention adjourned sine die shortly after 5 o'clock this evening, having nominated the following ticket:

Congressman-at-Large, Charles P. Clemmons of Carbon county.

Governor, George T. Beck, of Big Horn county.

State Treasurer, Colin Hunter of Laramie county.

Secretary of State, D. N. Stickney of Albany county.

State Auditor, W. Dean Hays of Big Horn county.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mrs. Delario of Albany county.

The platform adopted declares allegiance to the national platforms of the past which have stood the test of time and experience and have formed the strength of the party policy from the time of Jefferson. It demands the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, the compulsory arbitration of labor disputes, the divorcement of state institutions from partisan control, municipal ownership of public utilities and a return to the original and pure form of the Australian ballot. The platform takes a stand against the trusts and demands the creation of a railroad commission and the abolition of passes and free transportation to public officials; favors a tax reform and arraigns the present state land board for favoritism and discrimination, favors the enactment of the employers liability bill, favors the preservation of the forests, but denounces the present law as oppressive and corruptly carried out, urges the opening of the Shoshone Indian reservation and advocates the establishment of the initiative and referendum.

BOUGHT IRON MINE.

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—The Press tomorrow will say:

The Cambria Steel company has bought the Republic iron ore mine in Michigan. This company owns other iron ore mines, both in the Mesaba region and the hard ore region. It is understood that the price paid for the Republic mines was over $1,000,000. While all the details have not been perfected for turning over the Republic mines to the Cambria, the deal has practically been settled and as soon as arrangements can be made the property will be operated by new owners.

AID FOR STRIKERS.

By Associated Press.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 7.—Committees were appointed today by the district board of the United Mine Workers to make a house to house canvass of the city and suburbs for financial aid for the strikers. It is understood the same plan will be followed in all cities and larger towns in the coal regions.

Honors were even today between the strikers and operators in the matter of resumption and cessation. The Pancoast washery of the Ontario & Western company at Throop, started and the Nayaug washery of the Nayaug Coal company at Dunmore shut down, the men having been induced to quit by a committee of strikers.

Over-emphasis of one's own merits and the advantages of one's own ways is bad enough, being likely to breed suspicion, but the detraction of the other fellow's commodity is worse, inevitably proving a boomerang in the end.—(Mahin's Magazine, August.)

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

The army under General Nord, minister of war of the provisional government of Hayti, has retaken St. Michael and Marmalade.

The Pennsylvania railroad for the week ending August 2 carried only 300 tons of anthracite coal. This is the smallest tonnage of coal the company has moved in many years. The shipments of bituminous coal continue to show a steady increase. Last week the company carried 557,035 tons, against 355,747 last year.

Colonel Groesbeck, of the judge advocate general's department, has written to the adjutant general a reply to the request for an explanation of an interview published at San Francisco on his arrival from the Philippines, in which he commented upon recent court martials in those islands. Adjutant General Corbin, to whom the reply was addressed, will return to Washington tomorrow, and no statement concerning it will be made by the war department until General Corbin arrives.

At 10 o'clock this (Friday) morning Chairman Frank Thompson of the Tennessee state Democratic committee, announced that the Democratic judicial ticket had carried the state by 30,000 votes.

Wu Ting Fang has conditionally accepted an invitation to address union men at Binghamton, N. Y., on Labor day; this is the first invitation which has ever been extended to a Chinaman by a labor union on a similar occasion.

It is reported that the pope has notified the reigning houses of Europe that no more dispensations for consanguineous marriages will be granted. It is the wish of the pope, says the dispatch, that royal personages contract marriages outside of royal families in order to stop degeneration.

Women's Colleges.

That women serving as chief executives for colleges for women have a defined policy is known, says Dean Mary A. Jordan of Smith college, in the educational number of The Outlook, by the fact that each college has a well-known "type" of its own. There is a widely expressed conviction that certain virtues come out of Wellesley, certain out of Bryn Mawr, and some others out of Wells. The girl whose indeterminate character is quite as much a problem as a promise may find the stimulus she needs at Mount Holyoke, and might miss it, presumably, anywhere else. But fortunately, this is only indirectly the affair of the woman president; sisters, cousins, aunts, and trainers in the secondary schools keep their fingers on the pulse of this machine. The less immediate and personal responsibility which does rest with the woman president is to be found in her adherence to the body of doctrine, made up of slight traditions, fluctuating customs, and often apparently unreasonable preference, that passes under the name of college spirit. To direct, rule, use, modify, transform, and even consecrate, this is one of the important duties of the president of a woman's college. And her position is more difficult than that of a man in the same place; for a woman is expected by her students to "understand" a thousand and one shadings of opinion and feeling, on pain of official death, where dense ignorance would be forgiven in a man, quite as a matter of course.

RUMORS AS TO L. & N.

By Associated Press

New York Aug 7—The unusual strength and activity of Louisville & Nashville shares today gave rise to a variety of rumors, the substance of which was that the trouble grew out of the attempt to corner the stock last spring had been settled in a way satisfactory to all concerned. These rumors were confirmed in part by persons in authority but nothing like a definite statement on the subject was obtainable. August Belmont chairman of the Louisville & Nashville road and Samuel Spencer president of the Southern railroad conferred with representatives of J. P. Morgan & company during the day and the return to town of John W. Gates coupled with his protracted visit to Morgan & company's office were regarded as of more than passing importance.

The story most persistently circulated was that Morgan & company who are believed to hold 15,000 shares of L. & N., for which they paid about 130 according to report, have agreed to buy the Harris Gates holdings estimated at something like 200,000 shares for [illegible]

Questioned on this point a member of the Morgan firm said

We are not in a position to say anything about Louisville & Nashville but there are no differences and there will be none.

Coincident with the movement in L. & N. was the sharp rise in Illinois Central, Hocking Valley issues, and Nashville & Chattanooga. So far as surface indications went nothing developed to connect the movement in these stocks with the reported settlement in L. & N.

COTTON MARKET

Report of McIntyre & Marshall, to William A Otis & Co.

New York Aug 7 The strength and activity in cotton today was [illegible] a better [illegible] buying on an improved demand for spot [illegible] to and to large purchases of the August option by McFadden interests and covering of shorts The weather [illegible] in the cotton belt continue dry and hot generally with high temperature The buying movement in August continued higher throughout the day and the market closed firm at the best prices A decidedly better demand for spot cotton from spinners is reported and this is believed in some quarters to have caused the covering movement in August contracts here in connection with better demand for spot cotton at Liverpool There is still considerable short interest in the market and should they be forced to cover the market may get some further rally

COPPER LETTER.

Reported by Paine Webber & Co., to William A. Otis & Co :

Boston Aug 7—The tone of the market for copper stocks has been firmer today The strong buying demand developed in Mohawk Isle Royale, and U S Mining started the shorts to cover For several days past there have been indications of the quiet absorption of the better class of copper stocks and it looks tonight as if a good rally had started The news of [illegible] in the United Verde mine will probably cause the metal to strengthen We are bullish on coppers

The London Market.

By Associated Press

New York, Aug. 7—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram Stocks were slightly brisker and brighter today It is understood that arrangements have been made to carry through a speculator in consols and Kaffirs, whose differences are £100,000. This would explain the recent weakness of Kaffirs Consols sold at 95¾ Americans were rather brisk and firm throughout the features being Atchison Canadian Pacific and Louisville & Nashville The last was wanted in the street Rio Tintos were ¼ up to 44⅝ Copper sold at £52 the ton

Money is in short supply on heavy displacement of capital consol installments etc Preparations were made to meet the demand but the pressure will continue tomorrow The market renewed a large sum due the Bank of England and borrowed as much To the market's surprise monetary ease is not looked for this month as a further 20 per cent consol installment is due on September 4 The bank return shows that the government has been disbursing freely

Denver Live Stock

Denver Aug Cattle Business was good at the yards this morning as the pens have been pretty well filled within the past 24 hours with good fat cattle from the ranges of Utah and Oregon [illegible] bidding was the principal feature of the market this morning and competition was very strong as packers and country feeders were bidding on the same class of cattle The greater per cent of the offerings [illegible] were beef cattle although they were a little light They were no doubt in good shape when they left the ranges but the long distance they had to travel before reaching Denver was the cause of them losing many pounds of flesh The principal sale up to noon was a bunch of good grass fat steers from Oregon The averaged close to 1,100 pounds and found ready sale at $4 60 A number of good feeders sold [illegible] the best selling for $3 [illegible] while the bulk went at from $3 00 to $3 [illegible]

Hogs The quietness of the hog market was broken this morning by the arrival of several loads of very good hogs but with the exception of a couple of loads they came in too late for the early market The market has suffered another decline and all indications are that prices will still go lower Good heavy hogs are quoted at about $[illegible] which is about 10 cents above eastern prices

Sheep Three loads of sheep put in their appearance this morning but only one of them went on sale the other two being consigned direct to one of the local packers The one load which were wethers that went on sale sold for $3 50 Reports from the eastern markets are that prices are a little easier due to heavy receipts All kinds of good fat sheep are in fair demand on this market

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE

Biology Has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ

... wonder these days ... in the ... as well as in ... Since Adam delved the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved ... until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. Herpicide at all druggists. It is the only destroyer of dandruff.

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Steel Wheel and Wagon Company's Factory Is Ready for Operation.

Pueblo Bureau,
Colorado Springs Gazette
With Colorado Securities Co.

Pueblo, Aug. 7.—The Steel Wheel & Wagon company's factory, just completed, received their first car of steel billets from the C. F. & I. today, and a number of skilled mechanics will be employed immediately in the manufacture of the Pueblo steel wagons. By January 1 the company expects to install 200 skilled mechanics on their pay roll and has just completed a 25-room boarding house for its employes which is lighted by electricity, heated by steam and is a model for convenience, comfort and appearance. The factory just completed is one of the most perfect and modern manufacturing plants in America. The main building is 300 by 80 feet, with a shipping platform 16 feet wide running the full length of the building and covered in with corrugated metallic roof. The building is constructed entirely of brick, stone and steel, and is absolutely fireproof. The steel roof is constructed with 80 foot single spans, leaving the entire interior of the building free from posts or supports. A ventilator 10 by 16 feet, equipped with pivoted sash extends the full length of the building, 45 feet from the ground, insuring perfect ventilation. The plant is equipped with the best line of tools that money could buy, among which is found a powerful 26,000 pound stamping press used principally in the manufacture of the pressed steel wagon beds, bulldozers, drop hammers, punches, [illegible], hydraulic tire setters and power forge, etc., etc. The handling of the work from forging shop to assembly room and from assembly room to paint shop and then to storeroom is performed by the aid of a superb system of overhead trolley and platform cars. The building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity and steam, electricity and compressed air are used for power. The capacity of the plant is planned for an annual output of 5,000 wagons and an enormous amount of work in other lines. In addition to steel wagons the company will build mining and shop cars and barrows, steel rollers, scrapers and any kind of article that may be properly made for the company to handle and that the western trade demands. Pueblo steel wagons will be sold and used all over the world, and it has been suggested that as they will have a characteristic distinctiveness they will be a great advertising medium for the city of Pueblo and the state of Colorado.

Tomorrow, Friday, is special election day for mayor of Pueblo to fill the unexpired term of deceased Mayor West. Both parties are holding mass meetings throughout the city tonight and both claim the victory by a large majority. The city administration will remain Democratic regardless of a Republican victory, as the majority in the city council which is Democratic will remain unchanged.

Owing to the washouts along the line [illegible] traffic east and south has been tied up in Pueblo 18 hours. The union passenger depot during the last 18 hours. The first train west at 5 o'clock this evening over the D. & R. G. has been held in Pueblo 18 hours. The D. & R. G. train south is indefinitely delayed.

Today the State Fair association received several thousand very attractive placards which will be sent to all parts of the state and adjoining states proclaiming the date, September [illegible] to 26 inclusive, of the state fair to be held in Pueblo. The purses to be contested for in the general races are receiving a great deal of attention from horsemen, and the large number of fast race horses and thoroughbreds will be entered. There will be races each day during the fair and it may be stated that some of the greatest events of the kind ever seen in this part of the state will take place.

Dr. Will R. Davis leaves for Texas points tonight.

The Ladies Improvement society of the south side held a very successful concert and festival this evening at Royal park. The proceeds of the evening will be used to purchase a fountain for the park. The society is also contemplating improvements to one instituted about the several school houses on the south side.

The county commissioners returned at noon today after spending two days in the country investigating the loss by flood and damages to bridges and thoroughfares. They estimate the loss to the county in repairs for bridges at $30,000. The new iron bridge across the St. Charles river which was constructed a few weeks ago at a cost of several thousand dollars was completely destroyed. Most bridges on Huerfano creek were badly damaged. Also bridges across the Arkansas river are in need of repair.

The D. & R. G. freight train 67 west bound ran over and instantly killed Antonio Guagi ano, an Italian 68 years of age, who was engaged in gathering coal from the D. & R. G. right of way. At the place of the accident the road bed is double tracked. The Italian saw a passenger train coming down the track and in getting out of the way of the passenger train stepped in front of the freight train which was coming in the opposite direction.

Mrs. R. White spent the day in Denver.

Colonel H. H. Sheppard, general western agent of the Chicago and Ogden with headquarters at Denver is visiting local ticket agents today.

In discussing the valuation of valuable of the local and corporate stocks of the state board of assessors and state board of equalization, Auditor Crouter today stated that he did not think it would place the state in a stronger position. He thought a four mill levy together with the tax will be sufficient to raise enough funds for conducting the state government but will not provide enough to pay off the debts as rapidly as had been expected.

INDEPENDENCE

Special to the Gazette.

Independence, Aug. 7.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Warden was entered last night during their absence and $40 worth of valuables were taken. It would appear that the burglars used a skeleton key to effect an entrance to the house. They secured a diamond ring, gold watch and chain, revolver and other valuables. The bloodhounds from Cripple Creek were brought here this morning and an unsuccessful effort was made to track down the thieves. It is thought that the burglars are the same as those that have been operating in and about Independence for the past few months.

CRIPPLE CREEK NEWS NOTES

Anthony Dean Killed by Lightning---Meeting of the Lincoln Republican Club.

Colorado Springs Gazette
Cripple Creek Bureau

Cripple Creek, August 7.—Anthony Dean, a young man 21 years of age and single, was instantly killed by being struck by lightning while at work in the bottom of the [illegible] shaft of the Colorado-Pike Peak Con. company's property this morning. Dean with two other workmen, one of whom is William Self, was working on a contract sinking the shaft. It was about 11 o'clock this morning when the accident occurred. There was a terrific thunder and lightning storm in the vicinity of Bernard creek north of this city, where the property is located. Self states that the lightning came down an air pipe extending from surface to the bottom of the shaft and struck Mr. Dean. The unfortunate man was knocked to the ground and expired almost instantly. Mr. Self was also knocked to the ground and stunned by the shock. He and the other workmen went to the surface and summoned help. Deputy Coroner Gesell of this city went to the scene of the accident and the body was brought to the morgue here. A peculiar feature of the sad affair is that there are no marks upon the body of the dead man. Relatives of the deceased are not known at this time.

The members of the Lincoln Republican club held an enthusiastic meeting in the council chamber of the city hall. Dr. Z. E. Fans, president of the club, presided at tonight's meeting. Attorney Geo. H. Kohe was elected a member of the club and made a short address dealing with local and national conditions. Frank N. Briggs, chairman of the Republican county central committee, in his address advocated commencing the campaign in Teller county at once. Mr. Briggs has just returned from a trip over the state and is firmly convinced that conditions point to a Republican victory. In his remarks tonight he stated that if Senator Teller is not indorsed by the Democrats the Republican ticket from top to bottom will be elected this fall. The chairman reported that the Republican county organization in Teller county is in better shape at the present time than ever before in its history.

The following notice has been posted in different parts of the camp: "To whom it may concern: In accordance with a resolution passed by the convention of the W. F. M. A. in May, A. D. 1902, all delinquent union men and others working in or around the mines, mills, samplers and smelters within the jurisdiction of the federation are hereby notified, That unless they place themselves in good standing or join a union of the federation on or before August 20th next their names will be placed on the "Universal Scab List," to be established by the W. F. M. By order of District No. 1, W. F. M."

Articles of incorporation of the Cripple Creek Enterprise G. M. Co., capitalized for 1,500,000 shares at $1 each were filed today with the county clerk. The directors are Dan Hanley, Archie McKillop, L. H. Allen and C. E. Miesse.

The county treasurer has given a bill of sale to Edwin C. Meservey for the plant of machinery at the Ross and Hurd tunnel. The consideration is $250.17, the treasurer selling the property for taxes due for the past four years.

This will not open a new district as the well is surrounded by many of the best producers in the field. It will be put to pumping Wednesday. The United has been very fortunate in its recent operations.

DAMAGE AT FOWLER.

Special to the Gazette.

Fowler, Colo., August 6.—The extreme heat, drought and hot winds which have prevailed here for several days, causing great damage to crops and much anxiety among cattlemen, were all brought to an end yesterday afternoon and last night by a heavy rainfall which continued for several hours. The Arkansas river has risen about 11 feet and the water is flowing four feet deep over the lowlands. Considerable damage has been done by the high water. The flume of the Higbee canal at this place has been entirely washed out. The headgate of the Otero canal is swept away and the farmers are using hay to dam up the waters to prevent their farms from being flooded.

NEWS NOTES FROM VICTOR

Local Woodmen and Women of Woodcraft Entertained Visitors at Grand Ball.

Victor Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Victor, Aug. 7.—The local Woodmen and Women of Woodcraft tonight entertained the visitors to the head camp session at a grand ball at Armory hall. There was a large attendance and the big hall was prettily decorated in the lodge colors for the occasion. During the evening [illegible] were served.

G. H. Martin, warden of the state penitentiary, is organizing an excursion party to visit Canon City on Sunday and go through the penitentiary. The visiting Woodmen will be the guests on this occasion.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock Justice of the Peace Corbin united in marriage Jim J. Kelly and Miss Ethel M. James, a young couple from Goldfield. The ceremony was witnessed by friends and relatives.

In the case of C. W. Bush vs. J. W. O'Brien, a money demand suit for $85, judgment went for the plaintiff by default in Justice Corbin's court today.

Sheriff H. H. Robertson returned this morning from Parsons, Kansas. He reports that his mother is greatly improved in health.

H. S. Friske, manager of the Tomkins Hardware store at Leadville, is a visitor in the city.

LEADVILLE

(Special Correspondence.)

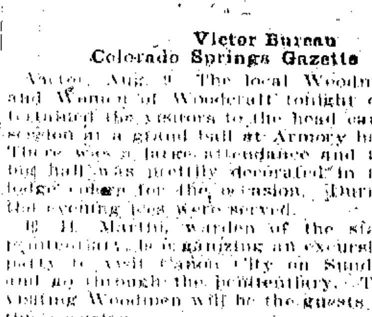

Leadville, Colo., Aug. 5.—The Arkansas Valley smelter has just received a car load of ore from the California property, owned and operated by Mrs. Julia Dunn. The ore is exceptionally rich, carrying several ounces gold and as high as 25 per cent copper. Mrs. Dunn attends to all the business in connection with the property and has placed it on a paying basis. The property is in Eagle canon, near Red Cliff. About eight years ago Mrs. Dunn came to the Holy Cross country from Pittsburg on the strength of a dream. In this dream she saw a mountain filled with ore. In her Holy Cross venture Mrs. Dunn spent considerable money, and later moved to Red Cliff, where she engaged in several mining deals. In these she proved herself to be a shrewd promoter as she returned east and sold one piece of property at Red Cliff for $25,000. The California is her latest venture and she has spent considerable money in developing this property. Eight men are employed in driving an incline tunnel, which is now in 250 feet. The vein is six feet wide and shipments will be kept up regularly. A vigorous campaign of development has already been outlined and Mrs. Dunn expects to spend $10,000 in putting in an air compressor, air drills and other machinery. Mrs. Dunn is not yet 30 years of age and says she expects to be known as the mining queen of Colorado before she retires. The Eagle canon, where the California is located, is in the Fissure View region of Eagle county, and the recent discoveries in this property have caused considerable excitement.

The discovery made by Patrick Boland and his partners in the Best Friend property in Upper Big Evans gulch is causing considerable local excitement. A number of mining men and prospecters made trips up the gulch last Sunday and pronounced the find all right. James Doyle took out several thousand dollars from one shaft of the Best Friend, but in those days only the very highest grade ore was mined. Assays made yesterday give 1.5 gold and 350 ounces silver. In a short time Mr. Boland expects to place a plant of machinery in position so that the development can be carried on to a better advantage.

A. Matthews, an old-time miner and prospector, chipped off a lucky corner of ground last spring. In hunting over the records and exploring around Big Evans near the Resurrection, Mr. Matthews found a piece of unpatented ground adjoining the Mikado which is part of the Resurrection group. He named it the Mayflower, and has been doing considerable exploration in a small way. Ten feet from the surface a six-inch seam of ore showing 1 of an ounce gold, 33 silver and five per cent lead has been opened. This is not phenomenal, but coming so close to the surface it is very encouraging and Mr. Matthews will lose no time in finding out what kind of a strike he has made. The property is not far from the Best Friend, where a good find of ore has just been made.

The new machinery for the Greenback has arrived and the big engine, of the most modern pattern, will be in position the last of the week. This will enable the property to make an output if desired of 500 tons per day. The 1,350-foot level is now being opened and will give the mine still more extensive stoping ground. Nothing definite has been given out as to the future plans of the Greenback. Mr. Mulrooney, the manager, has not made any contracts for the ore and says that he does not intend to give it away.

Word has reached here from Twin Lakes that Colonel Best and several gentlemen interested in the Gordon mine visited that property and obtained information as to its physical condition. The sale of the mine has not been closed by Daniel Murphy of Milwaukee, nor will it be until the financial affairs of the Brown estate are cleared up.

WELLS FOR IRRIGATION

(Special Correspondence.)

La Junta, Colo., Aug. 6.—L. O. Evans, living two miles north of La Junta, is practically demonstrating the value of wells in the irrigation of crops. He owns 27 acres of land and in a convenient location has sunk a well 18 feet deep. He pumps the water from this well by means of a centrifugal pump run by a gasoline engine and in this way successfully irrigates four acres of land per day. His well is so situated that all his land except about four acres can be irrigated by it. While all around him his neighbors are suffering because of dry ditches and no rain, Mr. Evans can thoroughly wet up his crop every five days and is thus independent of the weather and sure of a good crop.

Mr. Evans has made extensive tests of this soil for the raising of celery and is convinced that it can be raised here to perfection if sufficient water can be secured. By means of the well he is now sure of enough water and expects the coming year to put out several acres of this product. He expects to realize an income of $600 per acre from the crop.

Mr. Evans' irrigating plant can be operated at the rate of $1.50 per day.

RAIN SAVED MELONS.

(Special Correspondence.)

Rocky Ford, Colo., Aug. 6.—A heavy rain lasting for five hours visited this section yesterday afternoon and last night. It came at a very opportune time as most of the ditches were dry and crops were seriously threatened. It will mean a saving of thousands of dollars to the farmers here. Officers of the sugar factory had stated that unless the drought was broken within 10 days the prospect for a good beet crop would be almost ruined.

Home grown cantaloupes and watermelons are on the market here and a few are being shipped. Yesterday's rain will insure a good crop. It is expected to ship a carload of watermelons the latter part of this week.

Much damage was done by the storm to the telephone instruments, the lightning burning them out badly. It also started a fire in Dr. Pollock's office.

MISSING GLENWOOD MAN FOUND IN SALT LAKE

Special to the Gazette.

Glenwood Springs, August 7.—Elmer C. MacIlroy, the Glenwood dairyman who disappeared mysteriously three weeks ago, leaving a note to his wife saying he intended to jump in the river, has been found in Salt Lake by a friend of the family, who this morning returned to Glenwood with MacIlroy, whose mind appears blank and who can give no account of his conduct.

GEHR NOT PLEASED WITH HIS EASTERN ERRAND

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, Aug. 7.—John L. Gehr, organizer for this district of the United Mine Workers of America, who languishes at the Parkersburg, West Virginia, jail, charged with contempt of court, writes his wife here that President John Mitchell of the union will plead with Mr. Roosevelt for Gehr's release. Gehr left here four weeks ago at the direct summons of Mitchell to assist in the troubles of the eastern coal miners. He had only been gone 10 days before he was placed in jail. He says that after freedom is once secured he will never return to the east upon a like commission.

ROCKY FORD LECTURES.

Special to the Gazette.

Rocky Ford, Colo., Aug. 6.—The Epworth league of this place has closed a contract with the Co-operative Bureau of Omaha, Nebraska, for talent for their second annual lecture course. There are four numbers to be given throughout the season as follows: Laurant, the magician, accompanied by his wife, gives his sleight of hand performance; the Schumann Ladies' quartet of Chicago; Rev. Wickersham and Robert Parker Miles, of New York city, as lecturers. Owing to their success with last year's course the league is very enthusiastic over the prospect of a successful season.

FLOOD AT NEPESTA.

Special to the Gazette.

Nepesta, Colo., Aug. 8.—The rain here yesterday was one of the heaviest of the season. The river raised 14 feet in a few hours and four bents of the railroad bridge were carried away during the night. Wrecking crews from La Junta and Pueblo are at work on the wrecked bridge and it is expected to resume traffic by noon today. The rain did an incalculable amount of good to farmers and stock raisers as the crops were suffering seriously for water, and the range grass was dying. The rain has practically assured the beet and bean crops.

MILITARY BUSINESS WILL BE DIVIDED

By Associated Press.

Omaha, Aug. 7.—Secretary of War Root has made a ruling on the distribution of transcontinental military business of an unusual character. The government in the past has sent all its business over bond-aided roads when conditions were equal, and the Central Pacific, coming under that head, has carried about all of the business. To this other transcontinental roads have objected and Secretary Root has decided that bids will be received on military business, all going to the lowest bidder. When the conditions are equal or nearly so the Central Pacific will receive two-thirds and competing roads the remainder.

DETAILS OF RAILROAD DEAL

By Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 7.—Details of the deal by which the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad company acquired control of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad were formally announced today in a circular letter sent to shareholders of the last named road. St. Louis & San Francisco offers in exchange for preferred stock of Chicago & Eastern Illinois $150 per share, with quarterly dividends of $1.50. In exchange for common stock the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, St. Louis and San Francisco will deliver trust certificates for a corresponding number of shares at the rate of $250 for each share of such stock, with semi-annual dividends of $5. Both the common and preferred certificates will be issued under trust agreement with the Colonial Trust company and will be secured under agreement. Holders of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois are given until September 15 to deposit their shares. The 'Frisco road, it is understood, has already practical control of a large majority interest, so the success of the plan is virtually assured. Accompanying the circular letter to Chicago & Eastern Illinois stockholders is a statement signed by the dominant interests of the property—H. H. Porter, Henry Seiber, Flower & Co. and George H. Ball—to the effect that the offer of the St. Louis & San Francisco road is believed to be an advantageous one.

HAD A NIGHTMARE AND TOOK A WALK

About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a man clad only in a night shirt and with a rug wrapped around him walked into the fire station, and startled the fire laddies on watch by his unusual appearance. The man was in a dazed condition and was evidently greatly frightened as his teeth were chattering, his hair was on end and he kept muttering that somebody was after him. He was taken up to the police headquarters and after a time came to himself when it developed that he was a tourist out here from Wisconsin and was rooming at a house on Cucharas street. It seems that early in the morning the man had a nightmare and seizing a common floor rug and wrapping it around him jumped out of the window and wandered around the streets without being discovered until he chanced to walk into the fire station. A couple of policemen took him to his room but he did not want to stay there and after securing $140 in money which he had hidden under his pillow he came back to the police station and spent the night there. Yesterday he seemed to be none the worse for his experience.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES

The Hon. John Barrett, world's fair commissioner for the oriental countries, has been accorded an audience with the emperor of China who has decided to send an imperial commission to represent China at the World's Fair. It was at that intended to have the Chinese minister to the United States represent that government at the exposition.

The machine is the invention of Dr. L. Drake of Winchester, Ind.

[illegible] state geologist M. W. S. Yeates is very much interested in having Georgia properly represented at St. Louis in 1904. Mr. Yeates believes the legislature if properly urged will make the necessary appropriation for a suitable building and an exhibit. The commission appointed to look after the Georgia exhibit at St. Louis will hold a meeting in a few days and will submit a communication to the general assembly on the subject.

Iowa's building at the world's fair will cost $40,000 and $[illegible] will be expended upon an exhibit.

The [illegible] N. Y. Tribune expects that the [illegible] and varied manufacturing interests of that city will take up at once the matter of being represented at the world's fair of 1904.

Philadelphia manufacturers that have never before exhibited at an exposition are taking large blocks of exhibit space for 1904 at the world's fair.

The [illegible] for the wild animal feature of the world's fair has been awarded to the Hagenbeck animal show of which John Havlin of New York is director. That it will be a very large and imposing exhibition of trained animals [illegible] will [illegible] unfamed [illegible] by Mr. Havlin [illegible]

A strong sentiment has developed among the independent telephone manufacturing companies of Chicago in favor of making elaborate exhibits in the Electricity building. Each of the larger companies will have live working exhibits of more than ordinary interest. Every feature of a central exchange, local and long distance will be presented. Taken as a whole the display of telephone appliances by the independent telephone manufacturing companies will be larger, more complete and more attractive than any ever made before at an exposition.

The land known as the Tosson tract which was wanted for the world's fair has now been secured and the exposition grounds are a solid block of land splendidly adapted for the great purpose for which they are to be put.

William J. Bank a machinist of Columbus O., has been working for 20 years on an airship and believes he has a successful one with which to compete for the $100,000 prize offered by the world's fair. His motive power is a secret but the shape of the vessel is like that of a fish.

Information received from United States Consul General Ble Ravndal at Beirut Syria, shows that the Syrians are taking great interest in the world's fair at St Louis. The merchants and manufacturers of that country have been greatly benefited by the American expositions, directly and indirectly. They not only have made money but have gained many new ideas by their contact with the people of the western world. The silk weaving filagree and other Syrian industries have been revived as a consequence of business built up through the influence of American expositions. Mr. Ravndal says that there will be a fine display of Damascus specialties by a Beirut syndicate, and that a lively participation on the part of Syria in the exposition may be expected.

Manufacturers of machinery and machine tools in Cincinnati, O., one of the greatest centers of the kind, are taking space in the machinery building for large displays. Machinery and appliances for the transmission of power will form a considerable part of the display.

C. S. Karoly of Aurora, Ill., and William Reifferscheid of Streator, Ill., have plans for airships with which to compete for the grand prize.

CUBAN TARIFF

By Associated Press.

Havana, Aug. 7.—The newspapers of Havana publish many comments today on the proposed increase in the customs tariff for the purpose of providing security for the projected loans of $4,000,000 and $35,000,000, as set forth in the bill passed by the senate last Tuesday. All the conservative newspapers consider that the changes will be hard on the poor man.

Regarding the news received here by cable that the American press considers the floating of these loans to be an infraction of a clause in the Platt amendment, La Discussion says:

"Mr. Squiers the American minister believes it advisable to assist the Cuban agriculturists. He has also said the American government would be pleased that the republic of Cuba should pay its debt to the revolutionary army by means of a loan that so doing would greatly aid the prosperity of the country and that he believes Cuba to be financially capable of the operation."

THE TAYLOR CASE.

YESTERDAY afternoon the Gazette was informed that the assistant district attorney had decided to file an information against Mr. Taylor who on Saturday last killed Frank Shafer at the Exchange bank corner but that he was still waiting for the signing of the necessary paper.

We are wholly unable to account for this extraordinary delay in setting the legal machinery in motion but it appears evident that if it had not been for the initiative of the Gazette and the prompt expression of universal public opinion the assistant district attorney would not have acted at all.

It has been unfortunate that district attorney Trowbridge was out of the state at the time of this occurrence. If he had been here we feel perfectly sure that he would have acted promptly without being forced into it by the expressions of indignation and amazement on the part of the great majority of the people of this city visitors as well as residents.

Mr. Black, the assistant district attorney has reached a decision none too soon for his own good as another day's delay would doubtless have seen an exasperated community knocking at the door of the district court and requesting the appointment of a special prosecutor for this case since the regular official was either incompetent or unwilling to perform his duty.

In the meantime a serious injury has been done to the character and reputation of this city and the reproach is keenly felt by all thoughtful and right minded citizens. The killing of this man at the principal street corner amid the throngs of early evening was an act that would have brought discredit to the worst period of Cripple Creek or Leadville and every consideration of public decency required that prompt and effective measures should be taken to get at the real facts in the case. Instead of doing so we find that most important testimony was not presented to the coroner although it was known to the assistant district attorney. We find that the chief actor in the tragedy was released upon a voluntary bond which competent attorneys declare to be absolutely valueless. We find that the man who shot another down on the street of this city was within 48 hours after his act once more free and unrestrained with no criminal charge of any kind pending against him and engaged in his regular routine of business. And that too when the laws of the state clearly provide that no homicide can ever be released upon bail except after an examination by a district judge to ascertain whether or not the circumstances of the killing warrant the giving of a bond.

Is it any wonder that these things have been the chief topic of conversation among strangers in the city for the past few days and that our own people have joined unanimously in the chorus of amazement and disapproval?

The Gazette sincerely hopes that from this time on the district attorney will treat this case the same as other homicide cases and that he will see that the peace and dignity of the people are properly cared for in accordance with the statute of the state.

THE CAPTURE OF TRACY.

THE CAPTURE of Tracy, the famous Oregon outlaw, reminds one of the time when the United States regulars went out to make war upon some turbulent Utes in northwestern Colorado. The opportunity for a little field practice in the art of war was a welcome one in those peaceful days and the little company of soldiers moved according to the most approved methods of West Point lecturers and the accepted military authorities. The camp of the Indians was finally located in a bend of the river and the regulars moved upon it in beautiful order. The strategy was faultless, the tactics were unsurpassed but just at the time when according to Jomini et al, the Indians should have offered the most vigorous resistance a band of cowboys appeared on the hill back of the Indian camp and in five minutes the hostile Utes were pouring into the lines of the regulars begging to be protected from the cowboys.

It is not probable that the five farmers of Creston ever read "The Hound of the Baskervilles," "File No 113" or "Nick Carter's Greatest Case." They appear to have been densely ignorant of the proper method of training bloodhounds, and as sleuths they would not have known the difference between a clew and a club sandwich. But when they heard that the noted outlaw was in their vicinity and a reward of $8 000 offered for his capture dead or alive, they went out after him and got him.

The Gazette has no desire to disparage the services or the abilities of officers of the law sheriffs or detectives who perform their duties faithfully and successfully under circumstances of great difficulty and danger. Nevertheless it would have been well if something of the direct methods of the Creston farmers had been introduced into the Tracy proceedings at an earlier stage even though thereby the newspapers might have been deprived of some valuable "copy."

SAVE THE FORESTS.

EVERY summer Colorado is visited by forest fires most of which are entirely unnecessary and could be prevented. They are largely due to the wanton recklessness or criminal carelessness of the camper and prospector who neglect to extinguish their camp fires.

Our forests are disappearing fast enough before the ax of the miner and the lumberman without this needless and reckless waste of valuable timber.

The Rocky mountains got their name from the predominance of the rocks and [illegible] and barren spaces, over the [illegible] head. Nature [illegible] them rocky enough without any assistance from man in increasing their bare and rugged look by denuding them of their verdure by periodical conflagrations.

The esthetic point of view should be of some weight in a state that prides itself on its scenery and does all it can to attract tourists but that is of small importance compared with the loss in money and the loss in water storage capacity due to burning forests.

For eight days a fire raged recently in Allen's Park on the southeastern slope of Long's Peak where the waters of the St. Vrain have their head. This is said to be the finest timber left in the state. It is partly on state land and partly on government land. The loss is not so much in trees that might have been turned into lumber as in the decrease of the water holding power of this tract. The rain and melting snow will now run off or be licked up by the sun instead of being stored up for the farmers along the St. Vrain to use in irrigating their crops.

Every hunter and lover of nature knows what a difference there is between the barren hillsides covered with fallen and rotting logs and the cool moist depths of the virgin forest where the earth is like a sponge from which the water drains gradually and regularly into the springs and streams that feed the valleys below.

It is of the very greatest importance to the cities and farms of the plains that these natural reservoirs be conserved. If the water that runs to waste in the winter and after heavy rains in the summer could be kept in natural or artificial reservoirs there would be enough for everybody the whole year through. The weak point in Colorado's water supply is not deficiency of precipitation so much as faulty storage. The national government under the irrigation bill will to some extent provide us with artificial reservoirs. But it is the duty of the state and the legislature to protect the natural ones. This can only be done by a thoroughly organized forestry department which will control all the timber lands which are left, protect the trees from disease and injury and have the power to arrest all campers who are careless with their fires. Germany has a splendid system of this kind which we might well copy. It would pay for itself a hundred times over every year.

CRIPPLE CREEK STILL ALIVE.

WE NOTICE in an esteemed Denver contemporary that a millionaire Cripple Creek mine owner has eloped with an opera singer at Pittsburg in an automobile.

It is true that we have never heard of this Mr. Hilton nor have we any knowledge of the Mona mine which is said to be one of the best in Colorado.

But then there are so many Cripple Creek millionaires and so many lost mines from which they are drawing unlimited funds that it is not at all surprising that one or a half a dozen of them should have escaped unnoticed in the crowd.

What is of far more importance however is that Cripple Creek evidently still holds its place as the mythical region of unlimited good fortune the land of El Dorado which is the popular setting for every dazzling scene of wealth when reported in an eastern newspaper.

Had Mr. Hilton been a Klondiker or a South American we would have been distinctly disappointed. But he is from Cripple Creek and it is all right. He is fully entitled to anything he wants in the way of automobiles, a tress[illegible] newspaper notoriety provided he can get it.

AN ANTI-AMERICAN ALLIANCE.

THE MAIN subject of the conference between the czar of Russia and the kaiser of Germany is said to be the reduction of military establishments in Europe. In connection with this the suggestion has been made that the nations of Europe really have very little to fight about now. There is nothing to be gained [illegible] squabbling over petty strips of European territory and every available spot of land [illegible] is already claimed by some [illegible] the powers to maintain [illegible] each other's rights. It is true that in the agreement of Russia and Great Britain [illegible] much left than the others but even this [illegible] the crushing cost of military maintenance and the [illegible] expense of a great war.

But the colonial and European situation is by no means the only one that requires attention. In the great republic of America the nations of Europe recognize not only a political rival but a dangerous industrial competitor. With tardy wisdom they are coming to realize that their huge armies and their expensive and complicated systems of government are a handicap in the struggle for trade and profits and they would like to cut down expenses as much as possible. But they are afraid that the growing power of the United States may not be [illegible] checked in some manner for which the practices of diplomacy will not be sufficient. They do not understand and they cannot believe the extent to which this nation is a peace-loving and a peace-seeking people. They have an idea that it is only the superior military force of Europe that keeps the United States from engaging in a scheme of world wide conquest and the argument is being made in all seriousness that the European nations cannot afford to cut down their armies because of the danger from the United States.

The suggestion has therefore been made that there should be some formal alliance between the European powers for common defense against the United States and that by means of such an arrangement it would be possible to reduce the immense armies now being maintained.

The idea is an ingenious one and it should receive careful attention from the governments interested. It is really a wonder that no one has thought of it before.

But so far as the United States is concerned it does not really matter to us very much one way or another. The European armaments are certainly a business advantage to us and for that reason we would like to see them continued. We have been able to hold our own and to defend our interests even when we were much less powerful as a nation than we now are and we shall probably continue to do so in the future regardless of whether the European powers maintain their present armies or fix up some kind of an alliance that will enable them to cut down expenses.

On the other hand we do not believe that the European manufacturers will be able to exclude us from a fair share of the world's trade even if they should cut off their military budget altogether. Yankee ingenuity and the boundless natural resources of our country have something to do with our success and these no foreign country can take from us. Neither can it deprive us of the spirit of Americanism born of national freedom and fostered by institutions and laws that know no caste or inherited privilege.

Undoubtedly a considerable amount of good was accomplished by the official statement of Mayors Robinson and Nichols sent out through the Associated Press. It has been widely printed by papers in the regions where it was most needed and has done about all that could be done in the way of contradiction of the absurd and malicious falsehoods regarding an alleged typhoid fever epidemic and bad water supply in this region.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

The Socialistic Program.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

I heard Debs and Gompers heard them to a finish.

Debs it must be confessed, is a born stumper alert easy genial racy radical and ready for whatever comes up. He carried a crowded colliseum along with him enthusiastically for two hours without apparent effort.

Gompers on the other hand drove his oratorical barist heavily from start to finish. Every utterance was like every other. Utterly lacking in the facility fell ity and hail fellow temper of the true stumper the performance was as solemn as a funeral and as long as a Scot [illegible].

In one respect however both speakers alike failed neither one ever touched the top notch of natural eloquence namely that rare thing called pathos which subdues and that volcanic indignation which fires the soul of the auditor. When for example the egalized wholesale murder of the innocents in southern cotton mills is paraded in review (20 000 white children from six to 12 years immolated on the altar of mammon) what but the red hot consuming indignation of a Phillips can turn the sea blight of public condemnation on the heartless hellish crime?

A slavery infinitely more cruel and debasing than the worst that ever existed in the darkest days prior to the dawn of negro emancipation.—(N. Y. Dry Goods Digest.)

O for a Gabriel's trump that wakes the dead, for a Michael calling to arms. A hunter with the strange device Revolution. Debs flung to the mountain breezes while Gompers' Stanley [illegible] was Trade Unionism, Not reform he asks of that [illegible] sentimentalism but revolution. Revolution by the ballot is the working theory the battle cry of Socialism, according to Debs. Eugene V. But ballot is like bayonets. Gompers [illegible] the port of [illegible] Unionism is a shrifter to [illegible] his sons.

[illegible] The court what are [illegible] all that anything is better than nothing but reform, revolution aimed by [illegible] what not, what is [illegible] [illegible] for a reply.

I have read the Gazette's editorial [illegible] the so-called program and also [illegible] defenses of said program and find myself like Milton's conspiring [illegible] more and more in wandering mazes lost. Mr. Editor where are we at?

The objection urged in the editorial aforesaid namely that the Socialistic program is too indefinite causes me no loss of sleep, however because that is unavoidable. All prophecy even when the genuine article is necessarily indefinite. And programs, what is to be and done dealing in futures prophetic more or less. As with Daniel prophets [illegible] of all writings about the future the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end. [illegible] there are the stuff [illegible] of. For example to have declared in advance in favor of the gold standard would have been to miss the mark. But to take a stand first for sound money and later on to make silver unsound money by demonetizing it, how honest, easy and inevitable.

But when the Gazette revising itself, comes to argue that too much have the [illegible] programmed my [illegible] Ave [illegible] waste of raw material a conspicuous [illegible] in this the folly of the Populists. With a prudent husbandry of its resources at the time the [illegible] parts might to be sure have [illegible] the sage workers and [illegible] the front. It might have been [illegible] of tongues or pen [illegible]. It might have [illegible].

The [illegible] Gazette believes that the labor [illegible] in Colorado can accomplish what [illegible] reforms it wishes to [illegible] and intelligently [illegible] not dissipate its strength in chasing rainbows and does [illegible] heights in trying to [illegible].

[illegible] As here's the [illegible] effort to [illegible] greater disunionism federated and confederated [illegible] take [illegible] mark the fair [illegible].

[illegible] thou reasonest well. [illegible] left immortality where be found it [illegible] If not. So yours truly will take his leave of Socialism at this present offering in the wind up [illegible] simple and it would seem practical suggestion with this for a motto: Something attempted, something done.

Among the countless headed and truest hearted men of our day the Swiss are second to none. And that brave little people who fortunately know what they want and agree as to what they want better than most have been persistently working for years on the initial problem of governmental reform. And the problem they have elected to tackle is the initiative and referendum. Would it be too presumptuous Mr. Editor to suggest to our Socialistic friends that they try the [illegible] R as a starter. They might thus make at least a practical test to find out whether the wage workers of Colorado and all interested in industrial betterments know enough and care enough to do one thing at a time and thereby proclaim themselves like the Swiss mountaineers freemen forever and not in king wholly also in the rare gift of common sense.

Or better still perhaps let them as Professor Parsons urges (high authority) most assuredly. Put cooperative industry first in the list of institutional objects.

One sixth of the population (three millions) of little Switzerland which holds the blickinah of republicanism in the old world are cooperators. And the work that some of our slow-going cousins over seas have accomplished along this line might serve to inspire and nerve and quicken them. If amid the hilarious hurrahs for "international Socialism in some coliseum a speaker would arise and say, "Friends countrymen lend me your ears! Last year in Great Britain 1604 cooperative societies carried on a business of over $400 000 000. These societies own and operate factories, stores, banks write insurance fire and life erect buildings, run ocean steamers (eight of them) and carry on extensive educational work and find time also for recreation and social enjoyment. And the profits of this voluntary cooperation—profits paid in cash dividends to members in one year (if you have tears prepare to shed them now, tears of gratitude")—amounted to over $45,000 000. And this is the fruit of a movement started by a dozen poor weavers at Lockdale, England, about a quarter of a century ago. I call for three cheers and a tiger for cooperation."

If" I say. What the response would be who can tell? Because in this there's no revolution or trade-unionism or politics or governmental aid—only brotherly cooperation "of the people by the people and for the people." And may it never perish from the earth!

Denver. DAVID E. MITCHELL.

Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain.

It is never safe to prophesy, and it is especially unsafe to prophesy about so uncertain a thing as politics but if one were so rash as to venture a prediction, it would be that Mr. Balfour, as prime minister, will be the leader of his party in fact as well as in name. He may transfer Mr. Chamberlain to the treasury, he may direct affairs from the quieter atmosphere of the house of lords but whether he remains in the commons as first lord of the treasury or goes to the lords as lord privy seal, his hand will hold the helm, and he will keep an especially watchful eye on his first lieutenant the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain. For although Mr. Balfour is an aristocrat to his finger tips and a democrat at heart—a strange mixture but there has always been a contradictory streak in all the members of the race of Cecil—he like the rest of his party has no love for Mr. Chamberlain. Mr. Chamberlain may be prime minister of Great Britain—things much more strange than that have happened—but Mr. Chamberlain will not have his darling ambition gratified so long as the house of Salisbury is powerful enough to prevent it. In other words the day that Mr. Chamberlain comes into power will mark the decadence of the Salisbury influence in British politics. And with Mr. Balfour at the head of affairs vigorous alert able that day is not likely to be near at hand.—(From a sketch of "The New British Premier" by A. Maurice Low in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for August.

The Watts Statue of Cecil Rhodes

For many years Mr. Watts has been employed in modeling a colossal equestrian figure typical of energy and foresight. It represents an explorer mounted upon a noble steed which he has tamed and who having arrived at the summit of a mountain shades his eyes from the sun with his hand as he looks out upon the vast unknown lands awaiting his discovery and conquest. This magnificent symbolic statue has been given by Mr. Watts to Rhodesia. It is now being cast in bronze and will soon be on its way to the Matoppos where it will be erected as the tribute of England's greatest living painter to Africa's greatest son. The figure is purely symbolical and is in no sense a portrait of Mr. Rhodes but it will stand on that lofty tableland looking out northward to the interior of central Africa not yet spanned by the Cape to Cairo railroad. Mr. Rhodes stood to Mr. Watts for his portrait and although they met only in the last year of Mr. Rhodes' life the interview deepened the admiration and affection with which Mr. Watts had ever regarded Mr. Rhodes. The two men differed enormously but they were alike in being idealists of the first water. Both spent their lives in making their ideals visible to mankind. They labored in very different materials. Mr. Watts in the pigments with which he made his canvases visions of dream-like beauty. Mr. Rhodes in the roaring loom of time founding commonwealths and rearing and wrecking empires. Mr. Rhodes has gone. Mr. Watts remains the greatest of all the Victorians who still survive among us.

Mr. Watts and Mr. Herbert Spencer both octogenarians linger among us reminding a puny generation that there were giants in those days. Mr. Herbert Spencer is a philosopher whose writings have profoundly influenced thoughtful men throughout the world. Mr. Watts is an artist whose pictures have appealed to a much wider public. It is perhaps no exaggeration to say that he is all things being considered the greatest of all living Englishmen. Compared with his renown the fame of the king cannot for a moment compare. Kings are the best advertised of mortals for limitless advertisement is one of the most precious privileges of the monarchy. But Mr. Watts who is a monarch in the realm of art sways a far more potent scepter in his brush than the bejeweled staff which will be placed in the hand of Edward VII at the abbey.—(From "England's Greatest Living Artist: George Frederick Watts," by W. T. Stead in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for August.

The Surprising Growth of a University

Professor Vincent of the University of Chicago writing in The Outlook's educational number of its rapid growth says that a member of the faculty was asked the other day how the institution fared. "I hardly know what to say," was the reply. "I left the grounds more than two hours ago. Since this article was begun Professor Vincent adds new gifts not yet made public have come to the university.

There is good authority for saying that greater things are in store just now than at any other time in the last 10 years. Some specific facts bring this out in a graphic way.

Institutions grow and are not made, is a saying of social science which at first glance seems to have been mocked by the university which began its work in Chicago in 1892. The public is struck chiefly by the quickness with which things have been brought to pass. Nor is this strange. On the prairie of 20 years ago stands today 30 massive buildings, 200 instructors gathered from many quarters are teaching and guiding 2 600 students; during the decade nearly 1 200 bachelors 150 masters and 230 doctors of philosophy have been graduated; the university press has issued 250 volumes and is publishing 10 scientific journals; sixteen and a quarter millions have been received; the current expenditures for the present year reach $1 000 000.

School Gardens

Do you wonder at the perplexity of the little girl who upon being asked by her teacher, "How is it my dear that you do not understand this simple thing?" replied with a perplexed look, "I do not know indeed, but I sometimes think that I have so many things to learn that I have not time to understand."

Contrast with this the spirit of the boy mentioned in the following paragraph.

In the school garden properly conducted children become so deeply interested in accomplishing a certain definite near and understandable result—the raising of flowers and vegetables—that they learn to work hard without being conscious of effort. That is a matter of the very highest importance in educating children. I said to a boy who in one of the most indefatigable workers I ever saw, "Why, you are the hardest-working boy I know." "Yes," he said. "I know it but it's fun just the same."—(From School Gardens, by Dick J. Crosby of the United States department of agriculture, in The Outlook August 2.

The daily newspaper appeals to no faction, sect or class in the community. It is read alike by the rich and poor, the high and low, the learned and ignorant. No family is so wealthy that it can secure its daily information of the world's happenings except by the daily paper. No family is so poor that the daily paper of today is outside of its range of expenditure.—(Mahin's Magazine, August.

The successful metropolitan daily has established itself not only as a purveyor of what is commonly termed "news," but as a purveyor, also, of commercial information, which is perhaps no less interesting and no less valuable. This news is included in the advertising columns of such a paper.—(Mahin's Magazine, August.
